Pavonia Child, 2, Killed By Automobile Near City

Baby Runs In Front of Car

Mary Ann Salyers Fatally Injured When She Darts Across Amoy Road To Be With Her Sister.

Two-year-old Mary Ann Salyers of Pavonia became Richland county's 14th traffic victim of the year last night when she darted across the Amoy-Springmill road intersection, four miles northwest of Mansfield, into the path of a car.

State highway patrolmen said the child was struck by a car driven by Carl K. Oesch, 62, of Shelby, R. D. 1, about 5:15 p. m. The tragedy occurred in front of the girl's uncle's home, where her parents were visiting.

Officers said the girl had been playing around a truck beside the road and she started across the highway to join her older sister when the car struck her. The little victim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Salyers.

Coroner D. C. Lavender said the girl died from a skull fracture. She was dead on arrival at Shelby Memorial hospital.

The Salyers baby is the third child under 10 to be killed in county traffic accidents this year. The county's traffic toll this year is double the 1945 figure at the same time.

Held Unavoidable.

Oesch told patrolmen that the little girl darted from in front of the truck into his path, and he couldn't avoid the accident. The truck, patrolmen said, was parked on the right edge of the road, facing Oesch, who was driving west. Oesch was not held.

The body has been removed to the Barkdull funeral home in Shelby where arrangements were incomplete at noon today.

Treated at Mansfield General hospital for bruises and a possible rib fracture was Mrs. Ira Ervin, of Plymouth, General hospital employe, who was injured at 7 a. m. today when her husband's car was struck by another driven by David L. Wanzo, 70 Bushnell street, at Glessner and Sturges avenues.

Wanzo told police the sun blinded him when he attempted to make a turn.

STORM AIMS AT FLORIDA COAST

Hurricane Due on Coast at Midnight; Island Homes Being Vacated.

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— A severe hurricane with winds over 100 miles an hour at the center and gale winds extending outward 200 miles from the core roared toward the Florida coast at 15 miles an hour today after lashing the western tip of Cuba last night.

The storm will enter the Florida west coast between Fort Myers and Tampa about midnight and sweep northward through the state, the federal warning service at Miami stated in a bulletin.

The hurricane center was placed about 140 miles southwest of Key West with winds of 50 miles an hour at Key West and 38 miles an hour at Miami.

Rain squalls which lashed Miami and the Florida Keys throughout yesterday and last night continued today.

Hurricane warnings were extended northward along the Florida west coast to Cedar Keys and northwest storm warnings westward to Appalachicola, and on the Florida east coast northward to Fernandina.

As the storm aproached the Florida Keys, a fleet of Red Cross trucks, escorted by state highway patrolmen, rumbled aver the overseas highway to bring out all who cared to leave their island homes for shelter in either Miami or Key West.

Residents of Key West and Fort Myers braced for the blow.

The storm center was 140 miles southwest of Havana at midnight with winds of 60 miles an hour at Dry Tortugas, a group of 10 Coral islets 65 miles west of Key West.

DATE SET

Gallows Ready For 12 Nazi Leaders Facing Death.

NUERNBERG— (INS) —The Allied control council today set the day and the hour for the execution of Nazis condemned to death by the international war crimes tribunal.

This information indicated that most, if not all, of the appeals by 11 of the 12 condemned men in custody, have been rejected.

The day and the hour at which the top ranking Nazis will die remains a top secret, but immediate indications were that the condemned men would have at least a couple of days more of life.

Japan's CIO Calls General Walkout

TOKYO — (INS) — Japan's CIO, which claims a million and a half members, called a general strike today against the Yoshida government for Oct. 15.

The general strike is planned as an extension of the currently faltering newspaper strike. Electrical workers already had scheduled a strike for Oct. 15.

FARM WOMEN MEET

Members of the Richland county Farm Women's clubs Federation will hold their annual all-day meeting Wednesday at the Shiloh Methodist church. Sessions will open at 10 a. m. Dinner will be served by the women of the Shiloh church. The conference is open to all women interested in rural club work.

SMUTS URGES UNITED FRONT

South Africa Premier's Plea For Peace Stirs Conference.

PARIS — (INS) — Premier Jan Christiaan Smuts of South Africa told a plenary session of the Paris peace conference today that there is no fundamental dividing line between east and west and called upon the nations of the world to form a "united front for peace."

The veteran South African soldier and diplomat begged the delegates to "let this conference end with a message of hope, not despair."

In one of the most striking speeches ever to resound through historic Luxembourg palace, Smuts declared:

"This peace conference should not be an overture to bigger struggles to come.

"New fears are arising and sapping our morale. Don't let this conference add to these fears. Let the conference mean peace for the world, not to be taken as a signal for dangers to come."

Smuts said any idea that there is a fundamental dividing line between east and west is "largely an aftermath of wartime enemy propaganda," and added:

"There are no differences which cannot be reconciled, no division which cannot be bridged. . . .

"This fear (of two separate camps) transcends all other issues arising from this conference. It should be dispelled.

Schacht On Trial; Raeder Asks Death

NUERNBERG —(U.P.)—Hjalmar Schacht, one-time German financial wizard now reported almost broke, departed for Stuttgart today to await a de-Nazification trial before a German court. German officials reported.

Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, former German naval chief of staff, has appealed to the Allied control council requesting that he be shot rather than serve the life sentence handed him by the international tribunal.

CAIN HEADS REGIMENT

AKRON — (AP) — Col. Fred C. Cain, Akron attorney, has been named commanding officer of the 331st infantry regiment of the 83rd division.

EVEN HOUSEWIVES ARE DISCOURAGED: Looking for all the world like a deserted display room, this picture of the Third street market graphically shows the discouragement that has settled over Mansfield housewives after weeks of futile efforts to buy there the meat and other supplies they need for their dinner tables. REGISTRATIONS DUE BY TONIGHT

More Than 150 Sign Before Noon With Election Board.

At least 150 residents of Mansfield and Madison township, required to register with the board of elections if they want to vote in the Nov. 5 election, visited the courthouse this morning to qualify for casting ballots.

A last-minute rush was expected in view of the deadline at 9 p. m. today.

More than 1,550 citizens have registered or transferred their addresses with the board in the past week and a half.

Today was the first day for obtaining absentee voters' ballots from the board. They may be obtained from now until Oct. 31 at 6:30 p. m. and must be returned to the board by noon Nov. 1.

In addition, students who intend returning to their homes in Richland county after completing their college educations will be given absent voters' ballots between Oct. 16 and Oct. 31.

Citizens who are ill or physically disabled and cannot visit their precinct voting booths to cast their ballots may obtain their absentee ballots between Oct. 21 and Oct. 31.

'CUT LIGHT USE'

OPS Asks Curtailment to Aid in Supplying Warren.

Joy Herbert, district manager of the Ohio Public Service Co., today asked all Mansfield users to "reduce their use of our services to a minimum" in order to aid the company in supplying power to Warren, Ohio, "for essential municipal, domestic, commercial and industrial users."

Members of the CIO-Utility Workers Union walked out at the Warren division at 6 a. m. today. Herbert said all cities served by OPS were asked to supply current to supplement the amount produced by a skeleton crew of supervisory employes at the Warren plant.

The Associated Press said the strike was called to support a demand for an 18-cent hourly wage increase but involved also a factional dispute with AFL-operating engineers.

MUM ON BOMBS

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The war department declined immediate comment today on reports that the United States had sent Britain a stockpile of atomic bombs. The state department said it knew nothing of the reported shipments.

Residence Blaze Mars Fire Prevention Week

Mansfield's fire prevention week started off with a roaring blaze early yesterday when flames destroyed a large portion of the roof of the home of Dr. R. D. Campbell, 191 Helen avenue.

Firemen said that sparks from a chimney set the roof afire and that a dormer and the ceiling of a music room were also damaged by the blaze. A piano suffered heavy water damage, they said.

Fire Chief L. J. Steele, commenting on Mansfield's most damaging residential fire in months, said the blaze emphasized the need for enthusiastic observance of fire prevention this week—and throughout the year.

A poster and speaking campaign, plus a parade next Saturday, will highlight the city's observance of the week. Inspection forms will be sent into homes by school children for the convenience of residents in checking fire hazards

ANGERED FANS FIND NO DUCATS

More Than Half of Tickets For Massillon Pre-Sold.

Angry football fans learned today that although tickets to the Mansfield-Massillon football game were supposed to go on sale today several downtown agencies had jumped the gun and were already sold out.

Only 725 tickets were available at downtown sources and at least 425 of them were gone before crowds started forming this morning. The agencies either sold the tickets last week or took orders for them and filled the commitments today.

Tawse Pharmacy put 200 tickets on sale this morning at 8 o'clock and the supply was exhausted at 8:15. Fox jewelry store sold its quota of seats in a few minutes but still had 400 standing room tickets left this morning.

Massillon's block of 1,100 tickets caused a dearth of tickets for Mansfield fans. Usually visiting teams get 600 tickets but an agreement between the two schools accounts for the extra 500 seats for Massillon.

A total of 1,000 standing room tickets will be sold for the Massillon game. The Tyger-Sandusky game drew the highest number of standees, 818.

Tito Faces Minor Excommunication

VATICAN CITY—(U.P.)—A reliable Vatican authority on Catholic church law said today that Marshal Tito had incurred a "minor excommunication" by placing Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac on trial without Vatican authority.

The source explained that the excommunication was "automatic" because he had violated church laws.

APPLESEED GRID PLAYER MISSING

Portsmouth Police Asked to Aid Hunt For Donald Pesano.

Police today asked Portsmouth authorities to help locate 14-year-old Donald Pesano, 46 West Raleigh street, who has been missing since he hitch-hiked to the Mansfield - Portsmouth football game Friday.

The boy's sister, Mrs. Louise Zeides, of the Raleigh street address, said that he is not in the habit of staying away from home without notifying her.

She said she called three Mansfield boys with whom he might have gone to the game but learned that he apparently traveled alone.

A member of the Johnny Appleseed junior high school football team, Donald is described as being about 5 feet, seven inches tall and weighing about 130 pounds. He was wearing brown check pants, a red plaid shirt and a black, slip-over sweater when last seen.

Officers here have filed a radio request with Portsmouth police in their attempt to find the boy. Mrs. Zeides said the boy probably hitch-hiked to the game.

OLDFIELD RITES SET

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal.—(U.P.)—Barney Oldfield, 69, king of racing drivers, will be buried tomorrow, his widow said today.

BRITISH LOSE ARSENAL AREA

Jewish Underground Moves Swiftly Into Negev.

JERUSALEM — (U.P.) — British military sources reported today that the Jewish underground army Haganah had occupied the Negev area of Palestine in a one-day lightning operation, hamstringing a plan by Britain to set up a middle eastern arsenal there.

The Haganah coup in which hundreds of Jews swarmed into the Negev zone and established 11 settlements in a swift dawn to dusk move gave them some 25,000 acres marked for a British military zone under a plan drafted by Marshal Viscount Montgomery after his tour of the middle east.

The quasi-military operation, the British ruefully conceded, crippled the so-called "Morrison plan calling for occupation of that region by the British army."

Military quarters said air reconnaissance over the Negev area indicated that about 700 men and 300 women of the Haganah organization were there.

Meanwhile the Arab higher executive committee denounced President Truman's appeal for admission of Jewish immigrants to Palestine as a rash bid for votes. It said the Arabs would resist any such scheme with all their power.

Chill Winds To Chase Fall 'Heat Wave'

The fall heat wave which sent the mercury to 90 in Cleveland and 83 in Mansfield yesterday, is about over, and the October chill will be back by Wednesday, the weatherman predicted today.

Skies will be overcast tonight and tomorrow, and there'll probably be some rain by Wednesday, the forecast said. The mercury will start down tomorrow as chill breezes blow in from the northwest.

The temperature was down to 23 this morning in North Dakota and snow was falling in Denver, Colo., where the mercury stood at 32

Cleveland's 90 reading yesterday was a record for Oct. 6.

WARREN HIT

Power Strike, Transit Tieup, Slows City's Activities.

WARREN —(U.P.)— This city of 60,000, already crippled for a week by a transit strike, today was almost paralyzed by a strike at the Ohio Public Service Co., the city's source of power.

The walkout, which had a union demnd for an 18-cents-per-hour wage increase as its sole issue, immediately tied up most of Warren's industry and threatened to eliminate it entirely unless settled within 24 hours.

There was no indication of an imminent settlement, however.

HULL GAINING

WASHINGTON —(INS)— An official announcement said today that Secretary of State Cordell Hull "appears to be out of any immediate danger." The bulletin, issued by the navy department, was the most optimistic since the wartime secretary of state entered Naval hospital last week after being stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage.

Hamburg 90c; Chickens 75c

Bakery Goods Cut 10 To 50 Per Cent; Two-Year Scarcity of Chickens Feared By Poultrymen.

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Food prices zoomed higher today and shortages of basic foodstuffs became more acute, or threatened soon to become so.

A black market in poultry was reported.

Butter sold for 98 cents, and in some instances $1 a pound. Some grocers said they believed the price was a record for the city.

Hamburger was reported selling for 90 cents a pound—when you could find it—and steak for more than $1.

Housewives paid 75 cents a pound for dressed chickens, and some complained that the birds they received were old and tough.

Ten to 50 per cent less bakery goods appeared on grocery shelves Bakers expressed fear they soon would be forced to curtail output even more. They blamed the almost complete lack of lard and other shortenings that has existed since the return of OPA ceiling prices.

Poultrymen expressed alarm lest the effort to cash in on present-day high prices for chickens lead to a scarcity of hatching eggs for 1947 chick production. They explained that undersized hens now being offered on the market should be the birds to provide next year's hatching eggs.

Mansfield bakers said supplies threaten to run out soon and if stocks can't be replenished, production of bakery goods, including bread, will be cut more, giving the consumer little more than the hole in the doughnut.

A fluctuating butter-fat market was blamed by dairymen for increasing wholesale prices on butter.

Hylas E Rinehart, partner in the Park grocery company, who has been in the grocery business 44 years, said: "never to my knowledge has butter gone as high as the price being asked today."

Wholesale prices on the yellow "gold bricks" fluctuated between 87 and 89 cents.

Rejects Orders.

Last week the Sherman Bowden Poultry farm turned down 150 orders for chickens.

"We won't have any chickens to sell in two or three months, and if this meat shortage continues, it will take two years to get enough chickens back on the market," Bowden said.

"We can't get hatching eggs now because undersized hens are being sold off. It will take all next year to get enough hens raised to pro-

MEAT FAMINE INQUIRY HINTED

Small Business Invited to Make Request as Outlook For Future Darkens.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The possibility of a congressional investigation of the meat famine was raised today as the agriculture department predicted that total livestock on farms will show a decided drop next year despite record feed grain production.

At the same time, a cattle-state senator, Gurney (R-S.D) declared that the flow of corn-fed beef to meat-hungry Americans could be stepped up in as little as 30 days "if OPA controls were scrapped."

Sen. Stewart (D-Tenn). who joined Gurney in urging the decontrol of meat prices, said that the senate small business committee stands ready to go into an all-out probe of the meat situation "if small business wants us to do so."

"Numbers of livestock on farms Jan. 1, 1947, in terms of grain consuming animal units, are expected to be four to five per cent less than on Jan. 1, 1946.

"Cattle and calf production on farms (live weight) is expected to be less than in 1946.

"Less milk is expected to be produced in 1947 than in 1946.

"The 1946 fall pig crop is expected to be 15 to 20 per cent below the fall pig crop of last year.

"Fewer eggs will be produced in 1947, but production of commercial broilers and turkeys may show a considerable increase."

"The liquidation of sheep continues.

The report indicated that a principal reason for the decline in livestock production in the face of this plentiful food supply is that the livestock-feed price relationship is less favorable to the livestock grower than during most of the war.

ASK BOARD OK

Commissioners Seek State Approval of TB Plans.

County commissioners today passed a resolution asking state department of health approval of Richland county's plans for a new $300,000 tuberculosis sanatorium.

C. L. Shoup, chairman of the commissioners, said he and the board's architect on the project, H. S Jones, tomorrow would take a certified copy of the resolution to the office of the department of health in Columbus.

Shoup and Commissioner John W. Selby had visited the health department's headquarters Friday in an effort to stimulate approval of the plans, but the department director, Dr. Roger E. Heering, was absent from his office.

Modern 'Fagin' Lands In Jail

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — (INS) — A man described as a 20th century "Fagin" began a year's sentence in Belmont county jail today. Arthur Biehl of Bellaire was alleged to have threatened to kill three boys unless they burglarized homes and brought the loot to him.

It was charged that he supplied the youths, two 14 and one 16, with blackjacks, a crowbar and diagrams of the homes to be robbed The trio signed a statement against the accused.

SWEDES CLASH

STOCKHOLM—(U.P.)—Conservative and radical political elements clashed today over selection of a candidate to succeed middle-of-the road Premier Per Albin Hansson, 61, who died of a stroke yesterday. Hansson, who directed Sweden's precarious neutrality during the war, had headed the government for 14 years.

RENOUNCES WAR

Jap Diet Votes Approval of New Constitution.

TOKYO — (U.P.) — The Japanese diet today formally approved a new constitution renouncing war forever.

The vote was 432 to 5.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida, whose cabinet drew up the original draft, said the new constitution marked the "first real step" towards Japan's reconstruction, and pledged that the government would make every effort to cooperate with the people in enforcing it.

Bride-To-Be Dies On Way To Altar

NEW YORK — (INS) — A sudden heart attack was believed today to have caused the death of pretty Rose De Fabrizio, 21, as she walked up the aisle of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel in Inwood, L. I., to be married. Authorities ordered an autopsy.

Rose was to be married to her childhood sweetheart 20-year-old John Mastantuono who had completed three years in the army.

SUFFOCATES IN FIRE

CLEVELAND— (AP) —Andrew Fink, 85, was suffocated yesterday by fire which destroyed the house in which he lived.

Dreamboat's 10,925 - Mile Hop Opens Way for Regular Flights Over Pole

CAIRO —(AP)— The communications officer of the Superfortress Pacusan Dreamboat, which flew non-stop 10,925 miles of the Arctic circle from Honolulu to Cairo, said today that commercial air service over the top of the world was practicable from a communications standpoint.

Lt. Col. F. J. Shannon, called back to army service especially for the test flight from his job as engineer for Radio Station WCAU in Philadelphia, said high radio frequencies were blacked out repeatedly by sunspot flareups but declared:

"If commercial airways decide to use this region as an air route, I believe they could have successful communications with a few well placed low frequency radio stations."

Shannon pointed out in an interview that the shortest distance between many population centers was across the northern wastes.

The Dreamboat landed at Payne Field in the desert here at 9:57 a. m. (5:57 a. m. EST) yesterday —39 hours, 36 minutes after the takeoff on an epochal flight to test equipment in polar weather.

Col. C. S. (Bill) Irvine of St. Paul, Neb., pilot of the big four-engine Boeing and commander of its 10-man crew, said the flight had proved the Superfortress "would do its job" of defending the United States anywhere.

The 276-mile-an-hour trip had proved the ability of the B-29 to "defend the United States over any part of the world."

The Dreamboat had been stripped even of de-icing equipment to carry a heavier fuel load and had exhausted all except 400 gallons of its 13,000-gallon supply by the end of the trip.

But Irvine told reporters the United States army's new B-36 bomber could have made the same

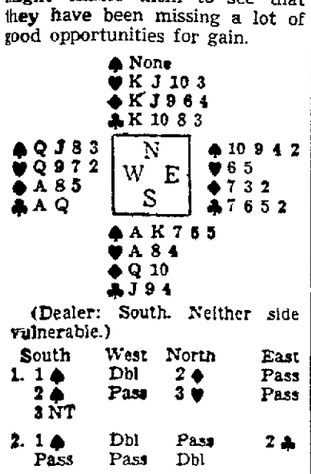
Barclay On Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

If your immediate suit bid, over an intervening double of your partner's opening bid, shows approximately the same strength as if the double had not been made, your pair is getting along without one of the most valuable point-winning conventions. Yet many players bid that way, and among them are some of the high rankers. Closer study by them of the convention whereby such an immediate bid shows weakness, might enable them to see that they have been missing a lot of good opportunities for gain.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1. 1 ♠	Dbl	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT
2. 1 ♠	Dbl	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	Pass	Dbl

There was the bidding at two tables of a dublicate game. At Table 1, the conventions in use by the North-South pair were such that a bid over the double showed the same kind of hand as if the double had not been made. North considered that a pass by him would have shown weakness, so he bid his longest suit as a response. The side then naturally gravated into a game at No Trumps and made an extra trick, for a score of 130 for tricks plus 300 bonus for not - vulnerable game—total 430.

At the second table, an immediate bid over the double would have shown general high-card weakness, with enough probable playing tricks to protect against a bad set. With strength, but not enough for a good redouble, the action by North over a double should be a pass, with later action showing strength. So that is what North did. As a result, East's response to the double reached him as a choice morsel, which he doubled. It was defeated five tricks, the way the play went, for a score of 900. That illustrated the greatest value of this convention—a lure to get the opponents to stick their necks out. Note that any escape from the 2-Clubs would still have left East-West in trouble.

Hears Requests For Crop Loans

E. G. Howard, of Lorain, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan office, will be in Mansfield Thursday to accept applications for feed and crop loans.

Farmers needing financing for crop production or feed should arrange to call on the field supervisor at the Triple-A office on North Diamond street from 9 to 10:30 a. m. on that day.

HOROSCOPE

For Monday, October 7.

Monday's astrological forecast is for a highly stimulated and efficient state of mind, with the forces, faculties, energies and resources all concentrated on advancement, promotion, progress and prosperity. It is a time to set the ambitions and aspirations on lofty and lasting objectives, since happy, expansive, and far-reaching fruitions are in sight, with new openings offering exceptional scope for brilliant talents.

Prestige and popularity in all contacts bring joy and sentimental satisfactions.

Those whose birthday it is are at the brink of a period of brilliant success and fruition of the most cherished dreams, hopes and wishes, embracing the domestic, social and affectional, as well as the financial and professional aims and aspirations. Under this benign and expansive impetus, promotion, honors, preferment, and enhanced prestige and popularity crown sound tactics, born of exceptional talents, keen wit and sane appraisal of exceptional opportunities.

A child born on this day should possess exceptional talents and graces for the attainment of a successful, happy and prosperous life.

For Tuesday, Oct. 8.

Excellent auguries are present for an active and constructive day, with much stirring in the direction of advanced goals and cherished ambitions. It is time to work on the development and application of new skills, systems and techniques, for the purpose of putting over new projects or important objectives, in which the substantial personages may be of utmost significance.

Approach these with affability and confidence for best results, since the social or sentimental values are apt to get quick results in solving problems.

Those whose birthday it is have a most encouraging outlook for a constructive, profitable and pleasant year, in which new plans and experiments may be developed by fresh ideas, novel ways and means, or clever techniques, concentrated on the promotion of new projects of major importance. Sound, practical and workable programs should ensure the hearty support of associates or those in influential positions, ready with capital as well as friendly commendation, social and subtler relations being paramount.

Concentrate the best energies, faculties and initiative on this end.

A child born on this day may have splendid practical talents and skills, with ability to attract superiors and happy contacts for their worthy development.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

A giddy hostess once asked Prof. Einstein to explain his theory of relativity in "a few well-chosen words." "I will tell you a story instead," said the scientist. "I once was walking with a blind man, and remarked that I would like a glass of milk.

"'What is milk?' asked my blind friend.

"'A white liquid,' I replied.

"'Liquid I know. But what is white?'

"'The color of a swan's feathers.'

"Feathers I know. What is a swan?'

"'A bird with a crooked neck.'

"Neck I know. But what is crooked?'

"Thereupon I lost patience. I seized his arm and straightened it. 'That's straight,' I said, and then I bent it at the elbow. 'That's crooked.'

"'Ah,' said the blind man. 'Now I know what you mean by milk.'

"Do you still want to know about relativity?" The hostess decided to change the subject.

Books for the Younger Set

Books reviewed in this column will be available Monday at the Public library.

Do you suppose roosters like to get up early? Charles didn't, especially in the winter, when it was cold as well as dark. So he listened to the birds talk about going south for the winter and thought it a good idea. In almost no time Charles, his wife Henrietta, Jinx the cat, Freddy the pig, Robert the dog, Hank the horse, Mrs. Wiggins the cow, Alice and Emma the ducks, Eek, Quik, Eeny and Cousin Augustus the mice, and Mr. an Mrs. Webb started for Florida. It was a long trip and a strange one. The animals had adventures. Robbers almost had Charles and Henrietta for dinner. If you want to know how the animals got away and got the gold home you'll have to read TO AND AGAIN by Walter Brooks.

"Barry Martin—This is a warning. Don't fly the Skyblazer tomorrow. I will explain later. Your friend, Shadrock." That was the message Barry got the day before the test flight of the gigantic new transport plane. He flew—and the plane crashed and Barry just missed being killed. He didn't know anybody named Shadrock. SKYBLAZER, by Howard Brier, is the tale of Barry Martin, of the mysterious Shadrock and of the new Skyblazer built to carry 100 passengers.

HORNED SNAKE MEDICINE, by William Bunce, tells of intrigue and danger in a tale of the prehistoric Mound Builders. Osana,, apprentice to Star Looker, the master carver, is captured by the Long Bows. Star Looker is captured, too, and so is the new magic medicine stone which was made to be a powerful help to the peaceful Mound Builders. Osana must escape, must rescue the precious stone but a slave worker who is watched every minute has little chance to escape. Friendly people helped him but even so it was a close race to get home and warn his people before the attackers were upon them.

Enrollment Rush Delays VA Checks

The record 35,000 veterans enrollment in northern Ohio colleges and other educational institutions this fall coupled with new enrollments of 1,000 a day were cited today by the Veterans Administration sub-regional office for delays of as much as 30 days in receipt of subsistence checks by those who enrolled in September and October.

The rush began while VA was still busy refiguring some 65,787 disability compensation and pension awards to include the 20 per cent increase recently voted by congress. VA also has had to recalculate subsistence awards for on-the-job trainees where available salary records showed they were making more than the $175 allowed for single persons and $200 for married persons with dependents.

Despite Sunday and night shifts and part-time workers, added to handle this big "paper job," some subsistence checks undoubtedly will be late, G. D. Weidemaier, Mansfield office manager, said.

If subsistence checks are not received within 30 days, the veteran should contact his training officer or other local VA representatives, Weidemaier said.

Slavs Admit Error In Halting Plane

LONDON — (INS) — Reuters attributed to diplomatic circles today a statement that the Belgrade government had explained that Yugoslav fighters forced down a British plane at Nis Friday because they failed to recognize its markings.

According to the dispatch, the Belgrade explanation was made following a protest of the British ambassador to Yugoslavia. The report added that the Yugoslav government issued instructions that the RAF Dakota should be allowed to proceed on its mission.

Parleys Fail to Settle Major Strikes

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL
MONDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1946 TELEPHONE 4251-6 PAGE NINE

Winchell — On Broadway

THE ALLIED War Crimes Tribunal admitted that Schacht, Van Papen and Fritzsche aided the Nazis and helped them gain some of their conquests. Yet they were acquitted because legalistic mumbo-jumbo came to the conclusion that they weren't responsible for waging an "aggressive" war . . . But an American who parks his car on the wrong side of the street must pay a fine or go to the clink.

The German general staff was treated so nicely by the Allies—you'd think they were indicted as seditionists.

The same day the war crimes verdict was announced foreign correspondent Edd Johnson reported that the Nazis have practically regained control of the American zone in Germany!

* * *

There cannot be peace so long as the fanatic militarism of the German general staff exists. They always considered a military defeat as a mistake to be rectified in the next war . . . A historian once pungently described German general staff mentality: "They believe that the human race begins with the lieutenant."

* * *

And what kind of peace did the German general staff plan for the Allies? On May 16, 1933, the official organ of the GS "Deutsche Wehr" (German army) boldly proclaimed: "The only prize of victory will be the complete elimination of the vanquished from further competition, his destruction as an independent and important political force. Every sign of the enemy's militarism must be eradicated. He must be destroyed and despoiled."

The Justice department announces that it has evidence (You don't say? Hmf!) linking the Bund with the Klan . . . Three Sunday nights ago we pointed out that evidence of such a marriage could be found in the best seller book, "Under Cover" . . . But now that they have the evidence—what are they going to do about it? . . . Nuttin' . . . Most of the 26 indicted as seditionists are either Bundists or linked with them—yet the only thing the Justice department has done about these defendants is to delay their trial and make promise after promise that something would be done.

Attention U. S. Department of Justice: It is now two years since Joseph P. Kamp, the man who runs the very peculiar Constitutional Educational league, was indicted for contempt of a congressional investigating committee. But Kamp has not yet been brought to trial. What influence is keeping Kamp from the bar of justice?

It's ironic that Rosenberg (the so-called architect of the Nazi movement) should wind up on the simplest architectural structure of all—the scaffold.

The State department dopelomats are probably breathing easier now that Von Papen, who was in the same racket, has been acquitted.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—The tragic fraud of the Wagner Act, the principal cause of the growing menace of violent collapse in a victorious nation today, has been discussed from many angles. This fake, whose purpose is said to be to permit workers to bargain through agents "of their own choosing," has actually been used to deny that right to millions by forcing them to accept, as masters, underworld crooks and Stalinist traitors who are political proteges of the dominant party. Not since the American revolution have the people of this country been so arrogantly oppressed by violence, threats and the systematic pressure of persecution. Never was the Ku Klux Klan a comparable force of terror and civil disruption.

That the Wagner Act is at the bottom of the present economic collapse inflation, the famine in food stores and the lack of new homes, clothing and automobiles is a fact too apparent to need argument. It is enough merely to mention the strikes in the automobile, farm implement, steel and coal industries, all provoked by the Wagner Act.

But these and many other disastrous effects of this continental cancer in American life have been emphasized to the neglect of the fundamental wickedness of the law itself.

It is a fascinating occupation but a gloomy one to wonder what thoughts may trouble or rejoice the mind of Senator Wagner, of New York, an old man now but with time, still, to repair to some extent the damage wrought by his law to the country that gave him freedom from the furies of his native Germany. Does his conscience remind him in the night that every passing day aggravates the harm he inflicted under a mocking pretense of human intent and that every tick of his heart and the clock brings closer that inevitable instant when it will be too late?

I have thought of asking him, but refrain. If he hasn't the conscience to repudiate the wrong he did, in the presence of the horrible consequences, prompting would hardly move him to more than a vain old man's reiteration of the political sophistries that made him historic in his unenviable way.

* * *

The indecency of the Wagner Act is found in the preliminary "declaration of policy" as compared with the trightening condition of the United States today. It never was an honest law and the hunger and fear, the sullen note of desperate anger in every area of the United States are his contribution to the people whose faith he thus requited.

* * *

Wagner, as a lawyer and Tammany judge, whatever you may think of his political doctrines, knew that the Constitution of the United States gave congress no right to compel George Spelvin or G.I Joe to join a private club as a prerequisite to his employment, or to grant those private clubs the power to suppress commerce. Whatever his colleagues in the law may have thought of him as a lawyer, he must have known that much. Everyone with the adult intelligence to understand the Constitution knows these facts.

Powers not delegated to congress are retained by the people and this power that Wagner sought was not so delegated. Those cunning minds which drafted this iniquity to bear Wagner's name knew there was no authority for congress to make this law, so they hit upon the commerce clause. Yes, that would be it. The Constitution gives congress the power to regulate commerce between the states, and, although labor is not a commercial commodity, still the products of labor are. So they would seize upon the commerce clause as their justification for a law which, now, in a nation badly shaken by the exertions of a victor in the greatest miliary effort in all history, has destroyed all but a wraith of our commerce.

Othman — On Anything

HARRISBURG, Pa. —(U.P.)—The frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is being shocked. Cider's gushing golden in the mills. The fields are hazed in purple. And the paper shufflers back in Washington are a million miles away.

Poor devils. I wish a few of 'em could be along with me, sniffing the spicy smells of harvest time and maybe even talking to a few of the citizens here in a land where the dollar, in spite of everything, still is worth a dollar, or almost.

They'd learn, I think, a little humility.

What I'm trying to get at is the fact that I drove here from the capital to attend a sample of that great American institution, the convention. Where everybody wears a badge on his lapel, has a wonderful time, and maybe even does a little business on the side.

This particular convention happened to be a meeting of Pennsylvania newspaper publishers. They brought their wives along, their editors, and many of their reporters. The U. S. Bureau of Labor conciliation will be interested to know that boss and hired hand weren't bitter enemies. They were pals, boss bought reporter eggs for breakfast; boss' wife talked with reporter's wife about meat, lack of it. I don't believe that Secretary of Labor Lew Schwellenbach will have to worry much about these people. OPA Chief Paul Porter need not worry about them, either.

The ladies, and I say it advisedly, are sore. A few have storage lockers of meat that they bought when price ceilings were off, but mostly they serve their husbands omelettes. Porter will be interested to know that they are tired of this and that they blame him.

The publishers held one session concerning the newsprint supply. The papermakers' agents were there. Several men had copies of the Philadelphia Record, printed in part on brown wrapping paper. They were worried about the paper shortage, but they were not planning on any appeals to the OPA.

I believe it is fair to say they were figuring on ways to remain in business in spite of the OPA. What Porter does, or doesn't do, is a matter almost of academic interest to them. They're depending not on the government, but upon themselves. Worried they may be, but they still know how to smile.

They even smiled when I made a speech. They said—and that shows how diplomatic an editor can be—that it was a good try. The meeting was held in Harrisburg's biggest hotel, where the manager had posted a sign for his help. The sign said, by gollies, that the employes should realize they weren't doing any favors for the guests. The guests were doing the favor by stopping there.

The service was excellent. The prices were reasonable, and the food, what there was, was good. Mostly it was eggs in all styles, served with apologies. My waitress wished she had some bacon for me. I am sure she was sincere.

The convention's over now and Washington's only a two-hour drive away. One of the editors bought me a farewell cup of coffee and a sandwich; he wanted to know how much rent I paid and for what. I told him. He said he had a good house, with a vegetable garden and two apple trees in the back. It costs him $25 a month. In a couple of weeks he and the boss are going to take a few days off to get some meat. They're going deer hunting. The editor said he felt sorry for me living among the lawgivers and pounding out pieces about their doings. I think I understand.

RESERVE AAF UNIT FOR CITY SEEMS LIKELY

Army Officer to Visit Airport Tomorrow; Applicants Still Being Taken.

Confidence that enough former Army flying officers would be signed by tomorrow to assure an Army Air Force reserve officers' training program for Mansfield was expressed today by Joe Lesch, a member of the committee.

"I have a dozen applicants already and each of the three other fellows accepting them should have about as many," he said. "It's looking up pretty good."

An officer representing the Eleventh Air Force is due at Mansfield airport tomorrow at 10 a. m. to answer questions and give information to fliers who wish to join the reserve.

From the number of applicants signed up by that time, and the interest shown, the officer will make a report to Maj. Gen. T. J. Hanley, jr. which will determine whether the program will be extended to Mansfield.

Under it, army planes would be sent here for traning purposes. They include P-51 Mustangs, AT-6s and AT-11s.

Any former flying officers wishing to join the squadron may register up to that time, Lesch said.

Applications may be turned in at the Chamber of Commerce, Farmers Bank building; the airport, under direction of Tony Letang; to Lesch at Yuncker Brothers, North Main, and to Eldon Johnson at the Continental Mortgage company offices, Walpark building.

Other registrations are being taken in Ashland and Shelby, the temporary president of the Mansfield squadron, Gerald Kunkle, said.

A minimum of 30 members is believed necessary to insure the inauguration of a Mansfield squadron. The program has the backing both of the Mansfield Air Forces' Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

PROSSER HEADS AVC CHAPTER

World War II Vet Chosen By Members at Sunday Meet.

Charles Prosser, Mansfield veteran of World War II, will be chairman of the Mansfield chapter of the American Veterans committee for the coming year, members of the organization decided yesterday. He succeeds Atty. Joseph Ellison.

Others elected to serve with Prosser are George Davis, vice chairman; Robert Dietrich, secretary, and Richard Hamilton, treasurer. They succeed Robert C. Nye, Jack Snyder and Charles Swain, respectively.

Membership of the AVC also voted to change meeting dates for the coming year, it was reported. Henceforth, the organization will meet at 8 p. m. on the first and third Tuesdays of the month and at 2:30 p. m. on the last Sunday each month in the new AVC clubrooms at 37½ West Fifth street.

Pursuing its campaign to survey Mansfield's home rental situation, the AVC yesterday distributed to its members questionnaires, which members are to fill out. The questionnaires, when completed, are to show if receipts are received from landlords when rent is paid, if rental ceilings are being observed, and if the housing unit is properly registered with the local rent control office.

The Mansfield chapter, organized last February, plans to send eight delegates to the organization's state convention in Columbus Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

GIVES REASON

AFL Blames Truman, CIO For High Cost of Living.

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—The American Federation of Labor, opening a two-week convention here today, placed responsibility for the rising cost of living on wage policies of the Truman administration and the rival CIO.

The AFL executive council, in a report to some 600 delegates representing a record membership of 7,151,808, said that only steady production of goods "can bring prices down to a reasonable level."

RAT BILL RUNS HIGH

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio farmers will foot a rat board bill of about $20,000,000 this year, T. H. Parks, Ohio State university extension specialist, estimated today. Rats become fulltime boarders when they move from summer homes in the fields into buildings for protection from snow and ice during the winter, Parks said.

SCOUTS MEET

Senior Girl Scouts who plan to attend the conference at Akron on Oct. 12 and 13, are to meet Tuesday at 4 p. m. in the Girl Scout office to arrange for conference attendance, it was announced today by Mrs. Myrtle Ruff, executive Scout director.

MEET TONIGHT

Boy Scouts of the Crestline district will meet at 6 p. m. today at the Crestline YMCA. M. B. Snyder, district manager, will be in charge of the meeting.

7 P-TAs Book Speakers On Need For School Levy

Another step in the campaign to assure passage of the three-mill levy for increase in teachers' salaries in Mansfield will be taken Tuesday night when members of the speakers' bureau will talk at seven PTA meetings in the city.

The meetings and speakers follow: Bowman, Harry Hostetler; Bushnell, Jesse Beer; Carpenter, Miss Margaret Wheeler; Hedges, Supt. W. L. Miller; Newman, Harold Arlin and Dr. Edwin Fensch; West Fifth, Harold A. Bruce and Woodland, Miss Mary Lou Eyster.

Other PTA meetings, the dates and speakers include: Brinkerhoff, Oct. 10, Eugene Boling; Prospect, Oct. 14, Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell; John Simpson Junior high, Oct. 15, Rev. J. Frank Stewart; Johnny Appleseed Junior high, Oct. 17, Jesse Beer.

Glen L. Robinson, who is chairman of the campaign, will address the meeting of the PTA council on Oct. 22.

This schedule of PTA contacts is a part of the city-wide speaking campaign which is being arranged with civic organizations, woman's clubs, churches and other groups by the bureau, according to Bruce, who is chairman of this particular committee.

In order to insure an adequate vote in the November election Mansfield teachers have been working on registrations as part of the campaign program.

POLICE PROBE THEFTS IN CITY

Purse Snatched, Radio Stolen, Officers Told.

Police today were investigating a purse-snatching and theft of a radio from a sleeping Detroit soldier.

Mrs. Albert Kitzmiller, 173½ Vale avenue, said that a man snatched a purse containing $65 from her early yesterday on Springmill street.

Officers said $50.50 and other contents of the purse were found later strewn near a Springmill street home.

Pvt. Donald Ellison, of Detroit, said that a $25 portable radio was stolen from him while he slept at the Union railroad station early yesterday.

GUNSHOT WOUNDS FATAL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Henry Witter, 16, of Chillicothe died in White Cross hospital here yesterday of gunshot wounds suffered in an accident at Chillicothe Saturday. The body will be taken to Chillicothe for burial.

Two Motorists Forfeit Bonds

Two persons forfeited $25 bonds and one was fined $10 and costs on various traffic violation charges today in municipal court.

Fined $10 and costs on a speeding charge was Cullen B. McKissick, Cleveland. Fred J. Brandt, Cleveland, forfeited a bond by not appearing for hearing on a charge of failing to have an operator's license. Herbert Newert, Cleveland, forfeited a speeding charge bond.

An assault and battery charge filed against Jesse L. Caston, 571 Daisy street, by Grace Wilson, 544½ Daisy street, was dismissed.

CONTRACT TO BE LET TUESDAY

Mayor Says Report on Lake Job Expected By Tomorrow.

Contract to construct the Clear Fork reservoir dam, totaling more than $400,000, probably will be awarded tomorrow, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said today.

He said that he expects a final report from project engineers to be received in time for the letting Tuesday.

The city has asked the Jennings-Lawrence company, project engineers, to review bids on the contract. Lowest bid, totaling some $424,000 was submitted by Roger J. Au, Mansfield.

City council has appropriated money to cover Au's bid as well as that of John Hill, at about $464,000.

Mrs. Jolley Stricken At 86

Mrs. Lydia Rosella Ringer Jolley, 86, widow of Douglas F. Jolley, died at the Mansfield Sanitarium-Hospital Sunday morning following an illness of two years. She lived at 777 Highland avenue.

She was born in Richland county March 14, 1860, the daughter of Eli and Mary Ann Hoenschild Ringer. She lived in the county all her life. She was a member of the Ontario Community church, Ruth chapter No. 17, Order of Eastern Star, and Naomi Shrine No. 10, White Shrine of Jerusalem.

Surviving are one son, W. Clairmont Jolley of Cleveland; one daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Wilkinson, jr., of Mansfield; three grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. She was the last member of her family.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home where services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m., by Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger of the First Christian church and Ruth chapter, Order of Eastern Star. Burial will be in the Ontario cemetery.

Rail Workers Held After Cutting Fray

GALION—J. Trinidad R. Huerta, 25, is being held in city jail for immigration authorities on a charge of illegal entry into the United States. Huerta is said to have entered at El Paso, Texas, from Mexico.

Huerta was arrested by Galion police following a knifing fray early Sunday morning at Camp 19, Big Four works site. The other man involved is J. C. Caysee, 45, also of the camp. Huerta refused to press charges. Huerta was taken to City hospital after the fight suffering from two large knife wounds below the shoulder blade. He was treated and released to police.

YELLOW SPRINGS—(U.P.)—Antioch college officials said today the death of Thomas Chu, 24, Chinese army veteran who was a student at the college, apparently was suicide. The student leaped in front of an auto near Yellow Springs yesterday.

Up and Down The Street

ROUGH RIDE—

Eighteen-year-old Richard Imhoff, 130 Blymyer avenue, had his ups and downs early yesterday morning and is lucky to be alive today. A car he was driving skidded 50 feet and bounced like a jackrabbit over seven Pennsylvania railroad tracks at the foot of East Third street. Like other motorists in the past, he failed to see the tiny "dead end" sign; posted near the crossing. The car was heavily damaged, officers reported, but Imhoff came through unscathed.

MORE DEADEYE DICKS—

A story in yesterday's up and down column telling of Chief of Police Meade K. Bates score of 98 points made on the police pistol range on Thursday has smoked out other high scores, all made back in 1941. Records show that three of the force have topped the chief's score. They are Identification Officer Paul J. Martin, Lt. Clare W. Kyler, and Patrolman George F. Yoakam, who scored 99.6, 99.2 and 98.3 respectively.

COOPERATIVE—

Mrs. Ada Marietta, 281 Newman street, has reason to be grateful for the efficiency of Mansfield long distance telephone operators. Saturday her son, Pvt. Conard J. Roop, put in a call from Paris at 3 p. m. It was 7 p. m. before the call could be completed, but all that time, Mrs. Marietta said, operators stayed right with it to see that she was notified as soon as the connection could be completed.

Pvt. Roop, formerly with a tank division, is now head librarian at the American hospital at Vuillijuif, a suburb of Paris. Since last May, he has had charge of distributing 3,000 books to patients and employes. Several French brides of American servicemen are nurses in the maternity ward at the hospital. Pvt. Roop told his mother during their five-minute conversation. Pvt. Roop expects to come back to the United States in about five months.

MISS BAUER DIES

City Resident Succumbs After Long Illness.

Funeral services for Miss Martha Bauer, 46 Helen avenue, who died at the Mansfield Sanitarium-Hospital Saturday afternoon, will be held Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. at the Jones Memorial with burial in the Mansfield cemetery. Rev. Albert L. Linder, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will be in charge.

Miss Bauer, whose death occurred after several months' illness, was born at Shelby, the daughter of the late August and Catherine Stenger Bauer. She came to Mansfield as a child and had lived here most of her life.

Surviving are two sisters, Misses Catherine and Sarah Bauer, at the home. A third sister, Miss Julia Bauer, died last June 30.

Youth, 16, Fined On Traffic Count

Theodore Jacobs, 16, of 28 Clairmont avenue, was fined $5 in juvenile court today when convicted of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. Police cited him after he had "crashed" a red traffic light on North Main street Saturday.

Also in court was a 10-year-old Mansfield boy charged with delinquency in staying out all night several times in past weeks. Judge Stuart H. Cramer warned the youngster against such behavior and ordered him to be in his home by 9 p. m. or he would be committed to the Bureau of Juvenile Research at Columbus.

PROSPECTS DIM FOR QUICK END OF SHIP TIEUP

Motion Picture, Newspaper, Transportation, Power Deadlocks Continue.

Prospects remained dim for a general settlement of the week-old shipping tie-up today, and little progress was reported in attempts to reach agreement in strikes in the motion picture, newspaper and transportation industries.

Negotiations were resumed at Washington, D. C., between ship owners and striking maritime workers, with government labor officials expected to by-pass holdout Pacific coast operators and drive for separate settlements with east and gulf coast companies.

In other major labor developments:

1. Film strikers continued picketing the major film studios, while a delegation of topflight stars sought aid from AFL leaders in Chicago to end the jurisdictional dispute.

2. Additional negotiation sessions were planned today between transit company representatives, union leaders and city officials in transportation walkouts in Chicago and Columbus, O.

3. Negotiators for the Philadelphia Inquirer and the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) met at Philadelphia in an effort to prevent an editorial employes' strike threatened over wage demands. The Los Angeles Herald-Express has suspended publication after a controversy over Guild wage demands.

4. The Pittsburgh power strike continued with no signs of settlement, but the Duquesne Light Co. assured housewives there would be enough power for household chores and department stores planned to reopen.

Across the nation, upwards of 683,000 workers were away from their jobs in strikes and shutdowns, the majority of them as a result of the maritime strike which accounted for approximately 500,000 idle workers.

MUNY COURT HAS BIG MONTH

Cases Heard in September Show Gain of 200.

Total cases heard in municipal court during September topped by nearly 200 the number heard in September, 1945, the court's monthly report showed today.

Fines, costs and bond forfeitures during the month totaled $5,892, slightly below the August total, but the number of cases climbed from 309 in August to 331 last month.

Court Clerk Paul Ritchie reported that the city will retain $4,109 of the total fines, costs and forfeitures, the balance going to the state and county.

Fines and costs on city cases totaled $1,232 and forfeitures amounted to $1,505.

180 Members of Lodge Join Blood Offer

Mansfield's Moose lodge today had on file the blood types of 180 persons willing to donate blood in an emergency.

The lodge's blood typing program was launched Saturday night when some 180 members and their wives were typed by General hospital technicians and nurses.

Blood types of the lodge's ex-servicemen also will be recorded. This is expected to boost the total list to some 350 potential donors.

The list will be filed at General hospital. Copies also will be retained by the typing program's co-chairman Jacob Herf and Edward Wyllie, and the lodge secretary.

Says Europe Won't Unite

"Seven words of divine prediction have spelled the failure of every human effort to bring the nations of Europe under one rule," declared Rev. S. K. Lehnhoff, widely known lecturer, in addressing an audience of 600 persons at the John Simpson Junior high school auditorium Sunday night.

He said that Bible prophecy had decreed that since the fall of the Roman Empire, European nations will never again be united under one earthly government.

"Students of Bible prophecy know that it will not be possible," Rev. Lehnhoff explained, as he reviewed the second chapter of Daniel. "The history of dictators who attempted to weld the kingdoms of Rome into one great empire has shown this."

These public Bible lectures will be given at 7:30 p. m. every Sunday at the John Simpson auditorium, and ever Tuesday and Friday nights at Johnny Appleseed Junior high school. The subject to be presented Tuesday night is "Heaven What Will It Be Like? Where Is It?"

RED SOX TAKE OPENER IN 10TH, 3-2

Rudy York's Home Run Whips Cards and Pollet

By LEO H. PETERSON

ST. LOUIS—(UP)—Howie Pollet was within one pitch of beating the favored Boston Red Sox in the opening game of the 1946 world series here yesterday afternoon. Baseball has seldom seen as game an exhibition as Pollet turned in until big Rudy York caught one of his slow-up curve balls that didn't break and sent it into the left-field bleachers for a home run and the ball game, 3 to 2, in the tenth heat.

That blow may have broken the back of the Cardinals—only the future games will tell—but the Red Birds, downhearted as they were, felt they were the victims of bad breaks.

It depended upon how you looked at it, but either ball club with a bounce here or a bounce there could have won yesterday's game.

There was the bounce in the ninth that shortstop Marty Marion was waiting for when Pinky Higgins had hit a Pollet curve. But the ball didn't bounce and went through Marion for a single. That set the stage for the Red Sox to tie when they looked like dead ducks.

When Roy Partee, pinch hitting, struck out with men on third and first in that ninth with one out, it looked like Pollet was going to make it. But after getting over two curves on Tom McBride for strikes, Howie, trying to get a low one through, made a pitch too good and it was a single which brought in the tying run. It wasn't until an inning later that York made sure that tying the game wasn't in vain.

But it took one of the most disputed plays in world series history to make that tying run important. Except for that one pitch to McBride Pollet would have won the game on an umpire's decision.

That decision came in the eighth inning. With two men out, George (Whitey) Kurowski drilled a single to left and up to the plate came Squatty Joe Garagiola, the Cardinal catcher who, two innings earlier, had gone down swinging with the bases loaded. But this time he hit one.

Dom DiMaggio, as good a centerfielder as there is in baseball, lost it in the sun and when he saw it again it was too late. It fell for a double but DiMaggio rifled a throw to Higgins who tagged out Garagiola with feet to spare.

As that was going on, Kurowski was headed for home. The question was whether he made it before Garagiola was out. The Red Sox led by Cronin, began a mass protest when umpire-in-chief Lee Ballanfant signaled that the run counted.

Suddenly the protesting group broke up and then it developed that Ballanfant was not ruling on whether the run scored before the out was made but was calling "obstruction" on Higgins. The Red Sox third baseman, he ruled, had impeded Kurowski on his dash to the plate.

Once Ballanfant made it clear how he was ruling Cronin and the Red Sox went back to the dugout. There was no argument after he explained his decision. Most of the people among the record throng of more than 36,000 who witnessed the game, saw Higgins slow up the Cardinal baserunner by standing in his path.

That run looked like the big one then. It was getting bigger and bigger until McBride golfed that single when the Red Sox came up in the ninth. As things turned out, Pollet couldn't cut them down in the first extra inning opening world series game since 1924 when the New York Giants defeated the Washington Senators, 4 to 3, in 12 innings.

For after he had an easy time retiring the dangerous Ted Williams and DiMaggio he went to work on York. Twice his breaking curve ball hit the corners and the big Cherokee Indian was behind. Then came the pitch that wound up in the left field bleachers.

York said he thought it was a fast ball. Pollet said it was a slow-up curve ball that didn't break. Anyhow, it wound up out there in left field so the Cardinals were one down as they took the field today.

The Red Sox called upon Maurice (Mickey) Harris today in an effort to make it two straight over the St. Louis Cardinals, who were banking on Harry "the Cat" Brecheen to pull even.

Browns Wallop Dodgers, 26-7

CLEVELAND —(UP)—Rated as overwhelming pre-season favorites in the All-America football conference, the Cleveland Browns today appeared to be even better than their clippings, and Cleveland seemed certain to get its second championship in two years.

The Browns' 26 to 7 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday was their fifth without defeat. Brooklyn lost the ball game in the first half on two fumbles by Glen Dobbs, their star back, and some weak line play. The first fumble was recovered by Cleveland and turned into a field goal by Lou Groza; the second fumble resulted in a two-point safety.

The Browns scored first-half touchdowns on a series of running plays and after a 67-yard gain on a pass. Don Greenwood plunged for both scores and Groza converted both times.

It was the only AA game yesterday. San Francisco plays at Miami tonight.

Four Big Nine 11's Unbeaten

CHICAGO — (UP) — If history means anything, the Western conference football race narrowed today to four contenders—the only teams unbeaten in Big Nine competition.

The titles in the Western conference usually go to a perfect record team. Fifteen times in the past 20 seasons it has been necessary to go through the league schedule undefeated to gather the championship laurels. Reckoned from that standard the title chase now is reduced to a battle among Michigan, Northwestern, Illinois and Ohio State.

Michigan currently leads the conference parade with two straight victories. Northwestern and Illinois each have won a single contest, while Ohio State has yet to inaugurate its league season. The other five members already have been beaten.

Michigan stepped to the front of the parade Saturday when it downed Iowa 14 to 7 in the day's headline game

In other conference contests Illinois trounced Purdue, 43 to 7; Northwestern trimmed Wisconsin, 28 to 0, and Indiana broke into the victory column by downing Minnesota, 21 to 0.

Outside league ranks Ohio State dropped Southern California, 21 to 0, and Notre Dame rolled over Pittsburgh, 33 to 0

Dysart Elected Mohican Skipper

Harold O. Dysart was elected 1947 Commodore of the Mohican Sailing club at the annual election meeting at the Charles Mill Lake clubhouse yesterday.

A Mansfield man, Dysart relieved August Grotegut of Ashland who has been the club's skipper for the past year. Grotegut was named a trustee for the coming year.

Other officers elected were Glenn Macy, vice commodore; Robert Batson, Rear Commodore; Jack Gilbert, secretary. Walter Wixon, treasurer; and Frank Bissman and Fred Constance, trustees. All of these men are from Mansfield.

Eight Ohio College Elevens Still In Undefeated Class

By DON STULL

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Ohio collegiate gridiron circles today boasted one of the nation's best place-kicking specialists.

He's Tob Cole of Lakewood, O., who has booted an even dozen extra points through the uprights without a miss for Miami's Redskins this season.

Cole, a freshman, scored his first conversion against Purdue's Big Nine aggregation when the Redskins nearly upset the Boilermakers but bowed 13-7 in a season opener. He added six out of six as Miami swamped the Memphis Air Transport Command Rockets, 42 to 0, and made it an even dozen over the weekend as Coach Sid Gillman's Redskins trounced Dayton, 35 to 0, for the Flyers' first defeat in two starts.

Dayton was one of nine Buckeye collegiate elevens dumped out of the unbeaten, untied class over the weekend, leaving only eight Ohio teams in that select list with the season barely underway.

Surviving the third weekend of warfare with victory runs still unmarred were Wilberforce with three in a row; Baldwin-Wallace, Kent State, Ohio U., Muskingum and Mount Union with two triumphs apiece, and Defiance and Bluffton, who opened Saturday and got off on the right foot.

Oberlin, undefeated in eight games last year, and Kenton, too, have yet to be beaten or tied, but they don't open their seasons until this weekend.

Although the state came through the week's 24-game program with only eight "perfect" teams, Buckeye "grid prestige climbed back toward the top in the national picture as nine Ohio elevens copped victories from out-of-state foes and dropped four games to outsiders. That gave the commonwealth's grid teams an edge of 18 victories to 11 defeats with foreign foes.

Heading the Buckeye bid for national recognition Saturday were Ohio State's Bucks, coming back after a 13-13 tie with Missouri to outclass the University of Southern California Trojans, 21 to 0, at Los Angeles.

Paced by fullback Joe Whisler of Willard, O., who plunged across for all three Ohio State touchdowns, the Bucks hardly gave the favored Trojans an opportunity to play, outgaining them from scrimmage 265 to 104 yards and chalking up 12 to their eight first downs.

Galion Veteran Eleven Swamps Kit Kats, 40-0

GALION — Galion Vet Cubs semipro football team defeated the Columbus Kit-Kats 40 to 0, at Heise Park yesterday afternoon.

Galion, an all veteran team, faces one of the stronger semi-pro teams in the state next Sunday when the Dayton Rockets invade Heise Park.

Tyers Upset State Grid Rankings

There was a spirit of upheaval in state scholastic football ranks today, and apparently only those Lake Erie leviathans, Cathedral Latin of Cleveland and Waite of Toledo, were safe in an uncertain grid world.

The wave of rebellion washed to the very base of those two statewide leaders over the weekend. Mansfield, ranked sixth in last week's International News Service poll of sports editors, reached up and spilled third place Portsmouth, 14 to 7.

Coach Paul Snyder's Tygers get their final tuneup before the Massillon game when they travel to Springfield this Friday night. Portsmouth barely squeezed by Springfield, 20 to 14, two weeks ago. Mansfield has won four straight.

Alliance, after three straight victories, fell victim to another upset—a 14-13 loss to strong but unranked Zanesville.

Meanwhile, Waite and Latin sailed along in the untroubled tenure of their ways. Waite mowed down Toledo Woodward, 42 to 0, bringing to 168 the number of points it has scored in four games against only seven for the opposition.

Latin's 25-6 trouncing of East Tech was the 29th straight game in which Cathedral has gone undefeated.

Canton McKinley, Dayton Chaminade, Massillon, Campbell and Lima Central—other members of the state's big ten—all won about as expected.

McKinley's easy 42-0 triumph over Niles and Lima Central's 32-0 win over Springfield, a team expected to be troublesome, were particularly impressive. Campbell coasted to its fourth in a row, whipping Ferrell, Pa., 21 to 6.

As anticipated, Massillon was pressed by a stubborn Steubenville Ross eleven. The Stubbers held the mighty Tigers to a 13-6 score before 21,000 fans.

Stranahan Gets Tourney Glory

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (AP) — Frank Stranahan, the muscled young man from Toledo, O., had the glory but a flock of other guys pocketed the cash today as the nation's top golfers took off for Montgomery, Ala.—the next stop along the tournament trail.

Stranahan, the 24-year-old amateur, finished first in Fort Worth's $10,000 open yesterday with a closing three-under-par 68 for a 72-hole total of 270 but the real winner was Jim Ferrier, Chicago professional, who finished second and grabbed off first money of $2,000. Amateurs, you know, don't touch the cash in these tournaments.

Ferrier laid down a 70 for a total of 272 while Dick Metz of Chicago wound up with 275 on the basis of his closing 66 for third place and second money of $1,400.

Crawford Tourney Opens Tomorrow

BUCYRUS — Crawford county fall high school baseball tournament opens tomorrow afternoon.

Chicago Cubs Sign Hardy

Chicago Cubs announced today the signing of Don Hardy, 18 year old former Mansfield Tyger pitcher. Hardy who is now home on terminal leave from the Marine Corps signed the contract for Cub's scout Tony Lucadello. The Cleveland Indians also offered him a contract.

Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hardy, Park avenue east road, has a record of 17 wins against five setbacks during his amateur career. He pitched the Mansfield Tygers to the 1945 District baseball championship with nine victories and two defeats.

Under the tutorage of Dewey Durant, Hardy recorded seven wins and two defeats for the American Legion junior nine in '45 and while on leave pitched Jimmy Lymper's semi-pro Mansfield Tigers to one victory and a loss, this past summer.

Jim "Stretch" Regula signed with the Cubs earlier in the summer and both moundsmen report to the Statesville, North Carolina State league next spring. Regula won one game for Statesville last summer.

Hardy allowed only 97 hits in his 182 innings on the mound, whiffing 259, and gave up only 34 earned runs. Hitting .382 Don has batted in the clean-up slot for the three teams.

Ardent Card Fan Has Dubious Honor

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—(UP)—An ardent St. Louis fan had the dubious honor of catching the home run that gave the Boston Red Sox a 3 to 2 victory over the Cardinals in the World Series opener.

Phil Waterman, Celina, O., snagged the homer which Red Sox First Baseman Rudy York swatted into the bleachers in the first half of the overtime 10th inning.

Waterman, who describes himself as a 100 per cent Cardinal fan, said "it was a simple thing to catch that homer—but it's one souvenir I could have gotten along without."

After Third Straight

Mansfield Senior high school cross country team will be after its third straight victory tomorrow night against Fremont Ross on the Coolridge course at 4 p. m.

Fight Fire Loss with

STRAN-STEEL "QUONSET" BUILDINGS

Last year the property loss through fire in the United States was $500,000,000. On farms alone the damage was $100,000,000. And both those figures leave out the fearful cost of lost production, lost time, worry.

Stran-Steel "Quonset" buildings are framed with steel and covered with steel to help combat this destruction on the farm, in industry, in commerce. There are no inflammable beams, studs or joists to spread fire from one section to another...no inflammable siding or roofing to "go up in smoke."

When you need a new building, take advantage of the modern Stran-Steel "Quonsets" to get one that is fire-resistant. See your Stran-Steel dealer for complete information on the "Quonset 20," "Quonset 24" and "Quonset 40." They are adaptable to all sorts of building needs.

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

PETER IS REMINDED

Signs if you have eyes to see,
Hint at what is soon to be.
—Peter Rabbit.

Happy-go-lucky Peter Rabbit is one of those people who live from day to day. He is likely to forget yesterday and he doesn't think about tomorrow.

"There isn't any tomorrow; it is always today. So today is all I think about," says Peter.

So he takes things just as they come, the bad with the good, and sees no sense in working hard to prepare for days that may never come as do his friends, the Squirrel cousins. Paddy the Beaver and some others. He seldom gives the future a thought and when he does it is because something or some one has reminded him of it.

This morning Forktail the Barn Swallow was skimming low over the ground just outside the dear Old Briar-patch. Back and forth, this way, that way, flew Forktail as only the Swallow folks can fly. He looked as if he were flying just for fun, but Peter knew better than that. He knew that Forktail was catching his breakfast — insects that were flying low just above the grass. Over all parts of the Green Meadows other swallows were doing the same thing. It was fun to watch them. How they could fly! How they could twist and turn! And always it was done as if it were the easiest thing in the world.

Watching them it suddenly popped into Peter's head that he hadn't seen so many Swallows together before all summer. In fact he couldn't remember having seen Forktail or any of the others since shortly after the nesting season.

"I suppose they have been around but I didn't notice them," thought Peter.

Just then Forktail lighted on the ground in front of Peter. "Where have you been?" asked Peter.

"Oh, just around here, there, showing the children the country round about so that they may know where to look for homes of their own next spring," twittered Forktail.

Before Peter could ask another question Forktail darted away and went skimming across the Green Meadows toward the road that passes Farmer Brown's house. Other Swallows did the same thing, more and more of them until at last only a few were left skimming about near the dear Old Briar-patch. Soon these left in the same direction. Later in the day all were back again so that the air seemed full of Swallows darting swiftly this way and that, turning, twisting.

"I don't see how they do it without bumping into each other," said Peter to Mrs. Peter.

Once again they left, first a few, then more and more until none were left. As before they flew toward that road. Peter's curiosity wouldn't allow him to keep still for long. When Mrs. Peter's back was turned he slipped out of the dear Old Briar-patch and away he went, lipperty, lipperty, lip, straight for some bushes along an old stonewall beside that road. Once there he could use his eyes for something besides watching for danger. A soft twittering drew them up. Overhead ran telephone wires farther than he could see in each direction beside the road.

And as far as he could see Swallows sat side by side on those wires. It seemed to Peter that all the Swallows in the Great World must be sitting on those wires. Now and then some would leave the wires, circle about a few times and return. A few at a time more would appear to come from a distance to join the crowd. Each wire seemingly was an unbroken line of forked tails.

What had brought all these feathered folk together? Where had they come from? Where were they going? Peter was full of questions. Then he remembered he had seen just such gatherings of the Swallow folk in other years, always in the late summer, but while the weather was still warm. For a time they had been around in great numbers then all at once they were gone. Not one was seen again until the following spring. Suddenly Peter was reminded of something. He made a funny little hop.

"I know!" thought he. "When the Swallows get together like this summer is almost over. I wonder how they know?"

The next story: "Forktail Explains."

BUMPER WHEAT OUTPUT EASES FAMINE FEARS

World Crop Will Be Largest Since 1940, Say Experts of Ag-Department.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Fears of another world famine next spring and winter were eased today with a report that the world wheat crop this year will be the largest since 1940.

An agriculture department report estimated that the crop would be 5,875,000,000 bushels, only slightly below prewar levels. World production was 5,150,000,000 bushels last year and averaged 5,954,000,000 before the war.

Most of the new increase occurred in Europe and North America as a result of larger acreages and favorable growing weather.

The report also said that domestic vegetable production next year would be somewhat smaller although still adequate to meet demand. Prices may also be moderately lower, it said.

Turning to coffee production, the report said world output next year would be only 268,000,000,000 pounds, slightly more than this year but lower than before the war. Less will be available for export because coffee drinking has increased in producing nations.

The department said total U. S. feed grains this year would be about 138,000,000 tons, second only to the 1942-43 season. Because of a decline in livestock numbers, the supply of feed per animal will be the largest on record and about 10 per cent above 1945-46.

GIs Song Choices Not Same as Home

NEW YORK—(AP)—The musical preferences of American servicemen stationed overseas are not necessarily the same as those of the folks back home. Through the Armed Forces radio stations around the world, bandleader Kay Kyser polled the top tunes in various areas, and found the following favorites:

In Hawaii, "Making Whoopee"; Panama Canal Zone, "Poker Game"; Manila, "Don't Cry Baby"; Puerto Rico, "Doctor, Lawyer, Indian Chief"; Germany, "Oh What It Seemed to Be"; Aleutians, "I Wanna Get Married"; Austria, "Let It Snow"; Italy, "Symphony"; and Japan, I Can't Begin to Tell You."

FIND BODY IN CAR

GREENVILLE—(AP)—The body of Howard J. Tillman, 39-year-old Greenville attorney, was found yesterday in his car at a wooded spot west of here, police Chief Ora McClellan reported. There was a bullet wound in his head and a gun was lying on the floor of the car, McClellan said.

Weather

Grocer for 43 Years, Never Saw Anything Like Meat Shortage Now

By NITA BRANSON

"I never saw anything like it," Hylas E. Rinehart, 66, said in speaking of the present OPA price control program and the current shortages of food.

Rinehart should know. He's been with the Park Grocery company for 43 years.

Starting his career in a grocery store at Woodbury where he was born, Rinehart has been in the same business during most of the succeeding years, because he likes to work and he likes meeting the public.

Rinehart helped to start the Park Grocery company in Mansfield. Associated with him in business at the time were A. D. Rinehart, Willis Amsbaugh, and W. B. Crider.

Reminiscing about those early days. Rinehart tells of the way orders were taken.

* * *

DELIVERED GOODS WITH HORSE, WAGON.

"We would go out into a neighborhood, get five or six orders, then walk to the nearest telephone and call them in. Then the driver would start out with the horse and wagon and deliver the whole lot of them.

"In those days," he continued, "there was only one house on Arlington avenue. We would have to walk quite a distance across the fields to get to the nearest telephone. There were not many phones in Mansfield then."

There were no middlemen, either, Rinehart declared.

"We bought all our eggs and dairy products from the farmer. "There was nothing like price control. I've never gone through such a situation as we have today in all my 44 years. I never did like rationing, but this is worse. There's only one way to remedy the situation. And that is competition. We always had competition," Rinehart emphasized, "and it's competition that has made this the finest country in the world."

In spite of the trying situation grocers have to face today and the strain on nerves, Rinehart doesn't sit down to rest, at night when he goes to his home at 504 West Townview circle. He goes to work. The yard and all the odd jobs around the house are his hobbies. He goes at them with the same enthusiasm with which he started the day.

GETS HOMESICK

War Bride Takes GI Spouse Back to Holland Home.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—(AP)—A European war bride who's homesick is taking her husband back with her, in a reversal of the usual order.

She is 17-year-old Madelaine Jacobs Falkenstine who met her husband when he strolled into her parents' bake shop in Maastricht, Holland.

Madelaine wants to return to Maastricht to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs, and her 20-year-old brother at the University of Delft.

Falkenstine said he would accompany his wife and try to land a job as a civilian employe of the war department in Europe. He was honorably discharged from the army last February and Mrs. Falkenstine came to this country soon afterward.

FOOTBALL INJURY FATAL

TULSA—(INS)—Funeral arrangements were completed today for Henry Frnka, jr., 17-year-old Will Rogers high school football star and son of Henry Frnka, head football coach at Tulane university, who died yesterday of gridiron injuries.

DAIRY EXPERT SEES PLENTIFUL SUPPLY OF MILK

County Farms Expected to Produce Nearly 30 Million Quarts.

The cheering word today was that "at least there isn't going to be a milk shortage."

More than 18 million quarts of milk and milk products will be consumed by Richland county residents this year to account for a sizeable share of the nearly 30 million quarts the county's farms will produce.

This was predicted by one of the nation's leading dairy products distributors who also said that the supply of milk products "is expected to be adequate during the fall and winter months."

G. W. Diehl, head of the A & P stores national dairy department, said that the county's 2,900 farms are expected to produce more than 29,700,000 quarts of milk this year.

Of this total, county residents will consume more than 18,475,000 quarts of milk and milk products, Diehl stated.

"With a near record supply of milk coming from the nation's dairy farms, consumption of dairy products this year will nearly equal that of 1945 when more than 60 billion quarts were consumed," Diehl said.

He also reported that an increased supply of mort cheese products is available in many sections of the county

Shelby School For Leadership Training Opens

SHELBY — The second annual Leadership Training school for the community will be opened tonight when classes will be held in the high school building. The school is sponsored by the Shelby Council of Religious Education.

Sessions will be held for five Monday evenings with two classes each evening starting at 7:30 p. m.

A chapel period will be held between the two classes with the closing at 9:30 p. m.

Five courses are being offered this year with a splendid staff of teachers. Ministers from the various churches will participate in the chapel periods. E. O. McPherson will act as registrar and Rev. Harlan J. Miller, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed church is dean.

HEADS JUNIOR RED CROSS UNIT

Mrs. Gerald Lewis Named Chairman in Shelby.

SHELBY — Mrs. Gerald Lewis has been named Junior Red Cross chairman, Lewis Patterson, chairman of the Shelby Red Cross, announced today.

Plans are now being made by Mrs. Lewis for the year's junior activities in the schools. The sponsors who will work with her are, Mrs. Frieda Weaver, senior high; Miss Carol Baumann, Central grade; Sister Rosella, St. Mary's; Miss Carolyn Bond, Grant grade, and Miss Ruby Smith, Hayes grade.

Tray favors for each patient in the local hospital for each holiday is one of the junior projects which is conducted from year to year. Other projects have included filling of educational boxes for children overseas, collecting fruit and eggs for the county children's home at Easter, and sending Christmas gifts to veterans at the Chillicothe hospital.

1800 Pounds of Fish Placed In Shelby Reservoir By Club

SHELBY — The first of three loads of fish has been placed in the Shelby city reservoir by the Shelby Community Stocking project.

The load of fish which was put in the reservoir weighed 1,800 pounds, to make the total amount of fish put in the reservoir 8,800 pounds. The fish have been stocked by the Shelby Conservation club, the state and the federal government.

During the summer a drive was made to raise funds among the fishermen at the reservoir and others interested. The drive was headed by Dudley Seltzer.

The load of fish contained crappies, black bass, perch, pickerel, white bass and catfish. Two more loads will be purchased from Robert Shotliff of Sandusky where he gets the fish through commercial fishermen.

The reservoir was first opened to public fishing on June 16. The 11 acre body has been closed to public fishing since Oct. 1 because of the erosion correction work being done by the city. On June 16, next summer the reservoir will again be opened to public fishing.

Utah Prison's 'Forgotten' Man Once Got Death.

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Utah prison's "forgotten man" is now a free man, 20 years after he was supposed to forfeit his life before a legal firing squad.

He is a gap-toothed Japanese named Masota Karumai, but everyone at the penitentiary called him Charley. When he was pardoned recently, Charley was given a new suit and $53.83. The state gave him the usual $10; he had earned the rest by odd jobs.

Charley was convicted of killing another Japanese in a gambling quarrel at Helper, Utah, in 1925 and sentenced to death. He appealed to the state supreme court and was sent to the state mental hospital for examination.

The prison and the courts forgot about Charley for more than eight years and even after he was returned to the penitentiary from the hospital, the death sentence seemed to have slipped official minds.

Finally in 1942, the oversight was caught, but the pardons board commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. Good behavior and a talent for good-naturedly sticking to his dishwashing and other chores did the rest for grinning Charley.

SHELBY FUND QUOTA LOWER

Community Chest Asks For $10,000 Less This Year.

SHELBY—The quota of $12,716 for the Shelby Community Chest drive this year is $10,000 less than the quota set for the 1945 campaign, Raymond Pugh, campaign chairman, revealed today.

The drive will not include any funds for national agencies this year except the USO, which has a share of $1,716. The remaining $11,000 will be used to help finance a number of Shelby agencies such as the Girl and Boy Scouts, summer playgrounds and others.

The drive officials this year, besides Pugh, include William Doty, vice chairman, and Dudley Seltzer, secretary-treasurer.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

NEED OFFICER TO HELP PICK ARMORY SITE

Naval Reserve Council Seeks Local Veteran to Aid in Setting Up Unit.

Still needed in establishing in Mansfield a 200-man naval reserve training unit is a local navy veteran of the rank of lieutenant commander or higher, M. H. Pryor, chairman of the naval reserve advisory council, said today.

Announced last week by the navy, the new unit will mean construction of a new $90,000 armory to house some $200,000 worth of naval training equipment. It will bring the city a $50,000-per-year payroll.

"The program is definite as far as the nevy is concerned, but we need a Mansfield man who has served in the navy with the rank of lieutenant commander or higher. He is to serve until July 1, 1947, as the nav's representative in locating a sight for the armory and in organizing the unit," Pryor head of a local citizen's advisory council, reported.

As soon as a suitable officer can be found the navy will lease a site and build the armory, it was said.

In Chicago the navy announced that the Mansfield unit will be one of the 56 in 16 Ohio cities where more than $3,200,000 is to be spent establishing training divisions.

The navy's ninth district reported the program was in full swing, with divisions being activated as fast as they enlist enough men.

Ohio cities, besides Mansfield, receiving divisions and the number allocated are:

Akron five, Cleveland 14, Columbus six, Cincinnati nine, Canton two, Dayton four, Toledo five, Youngstown three, and one each for Lima, Warren, Hamilton, Lorain, Portsmouth, Steubenville and Zanesville.

Altogether, 229 training divisions are being established in the 13 states of the Ninth district. Ohio is receiving more divisions than any other state..

Dreamboat's Hop Opens Way For Regular Arctic Flights

flight with a bomb load

Col. Lrvine said the flight had shown the magnetic North Pole to be about 200 miles closer to the geographical north pole than scientists had believed.

On the trip, the Dreamboat passed over three oceans—Pacific, Arctic and Atlantic—and three continents—North America, Europe and Africa—and bisected the Arctic circle, once reporting from Prince of Wales island 400 to 500 miles within the circle.

The plane was the most heavily loaded Superfortress ever to take off when it lifted 74 tons, more than half that in gasoline, into the air at Honolulu.

The Dreamboat beat its own predicted flight time of 41 hours but did not win back the non-stop record taken from it recently by the navy's patrol bomber, the Truculent Turtle, which flew 11,250 miles from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, O.

"Another thing, we can't compete with the black market guys who are combing this section for chickens."

The Nickles Baking company, supplier to 95 per cent of the city's groceries and to 99 per cent of the local restaurants, reported production cut 50 per cent on sweet goods.

This cut, according to Curtis Bechtel, manager, affects not only Mansfield but approximately eight towns in 25-mile area.

"We haven't had shortening since the OPA went back on three weeks ago," Bechtel said. "Every day we cut off one variety of cake and rolls.

"We can't purchase lard or other shortening at the 24 cents per pound ceiling. We've tried everything—even sending our route men on a farm house-to-farm -house solicitation for lard.

"If this keeps up we won't have enough shortening to grease our pans."

H. W. Gibbs, manager of the National Biscuit company office, said his New York office had notified him that only five per cent of the shortening required is being received. The local distribution office receives most of its goods from Detroit.

A spokesman for the Uhlich Baking company, which specializes in pies, said production had been cut 10 to 15 per cent in the past three weeks.

"First it was the flour shortage, then fruit was scarce, sugar has been short all along, and now it's shortening," he commented.

MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1946

Only 45 shopping days until Thanksgiving — better be ordering that Thanksgiving turkey soon.

Now there's a rumor that there won't be enough paper to print next year's income tax blanks—which some folks may regard as a minor inconvenience.

"Do you know what," one thoughtful observer remarked, "we could get more school teachers by paying good ones what they are worth"—which is presented as an excellent idea, even if it isn't exactly original.

C. of C. Membership Largest Ever

WHILE there was an appearance of ease in reaching the 1,100 membership goal of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce last week, this is another of the instances in which careful preparation, excellent organization, intelligent leadership, sustained enthusiasm and four days of hard work, made a difficult task SEEM easy.

To a long-time observer of Chamber of Commerce progress in Mansfield it is obvious that the determined efforts of a relatively small group in earlier years provided the firm foundation for later accomplishments, and none is now likely to deny that this organization, in its steadily expanding field, has been an essential factor in Mansfield's exceptional high standing among cities in the under 50,000 population bracket.

Now, with a membership exceeding 1,100, and with greater potentialities for leadership than at any time in the past, there seems justification for confidence that Mansfield's Chamber of Commerce will continue to develop, in its younger and newer members, the same elements of intelligent and constructive leadership which have proved effective in making this a desirable city in which to operate an industry, conduct a business, engage in a profession, make a home, and rear children.

Mansfield's desirability as an industrial and residential city has heretofore been attained by consistently steady growth, with housing and other facilities keeping pace with population gains, and there is appearance of soundness in endeavoring to continue that policy, rather than aspiring to such rapid growth as has created troublesome conditions in some other cities which calculated progress solely on census figures and disregarded charity lists.

Mansfield's substantial residential expansion awaits only the materials and labor that will make it possible, and it is gratifying to know that a large and well managed Chamber of Commerce is in readiness to tackle the problems that lie ahead.

No Place for Partisan Politics

WHATEVER may be the cause of delay in carrying through Richland county's $300,000 tuberculosis sanatorium project, as authorized by voters last fall, even a suggestion that political party differences of county commissioners is among the causes of delay will not set well with people who are sincerely interested in the welfare of persons whose health might be restored by better care that would be available in the new institution.

While all three of Richland county commissioners are sometimes of the same political faith, it is not uncommon to have a divided board—two Democrats and one Republican, or vice versa, as is now the case.

It is taken for granted, however, that the three members of the board will work in harmony in all matters having to do with the business of the county, and this has fortunately been the experience, with rare exceptions, for many years—which accounts for the extent of public confidence in the commissioners.

What is now needed is assurance from all three of the commissioners is that they are working together in attempting to find a way to expedite the construction of the greatly needed sanatorium, and that political differences are shoved into the background when matters of public concern are involved.

Curb 'Pre-Halloween' Hoodlums

INCLINATION to excuse early-October vandalism by attributing it to "pre-Halloween exuberance" gives the impression of treating such destructive acts too lightly.

It may not be understood by some children, and possibly a few adults, that even actual Halloween night does not give license for property destruction, damage to automobiles, annoyance of other people, and such general misbehavior as is indulged in by at least a small percentage of undisciplined children, and some who have attained later 'teen-age.

Last year's Halloween observance in Mansfield was widely commented upon as having been carried through in an orderly way, with Hunt's traditional party as one phase and the annual Simpson-Appleseed football game as another attraction. There was also some special policing, designed to discourage hoodlumism in residential areas.

If extra policing is required to protect property against vandals it should be provided—even this early in October.

Use Airmail for Distant Points

WHILE reduction of the airmail rate to 5 cents an ounce is expected to bring a substantial increase in airmail volume, Mansfield's present situation is such that train-carried mail serves the purpose of speed quite as well, except when farthermost points in the country are to be reached quickly.

It may be doubted if New York and Chicago mailings from here will be expedited by air service, as these cities are reached overnight by train, for delivery the next morning, while airmail is most likely sent to Columbus or Cleveland by train, and possibly delayed in making air connections.

Even more important, from the standpoint of service, it may appear, would be restoration of the 2-cent rate on letters for local delivery, as there is an element of absurdity in being able to send a letter across the country for the same amount as is charged to send one just around the corner.

As the Akron Beacon Journal sees it: "Right now we have four political parties: Truman Democrats and Wallace Democrats, Stassen Republicans and Taft Republicans"—which seems to leave considerable groups unaccounted for.

To Harry Wade it seems very peculiar that, "when only half of the 60,000,000 now employed were working the stores were full of the stuff they made."

OPA now permits the manufacturer to reduce the size of the 5-cent candy bar—but not to the point of total disappearance, it may be hoped.

Anyhow, those war-forecasting commentators shouldn't feel too disappointed if their gloomy predictions prove wrong.

Elusive Hjalmar Schacht May Bid For High Place In New Germany

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE FIRST utterances of Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht after his acquittal may be taken as a bid for a return to power in the Germany-to-be. This assumption is based on our knowledge of his past ambitions and his miraculous luck.

The verdict, he said, was partly just and partly harsh. He would await offers before committing himself about a political career. Before Hitler, there was justice and free public opinion. He tried, he said, to avert war. And by way of summation, he said he was going where he would not see the press again.

But whether Schacht sees the press or not, the press will hear of him. For he is one of the most resourceful and indestructible of politicians.

Schacht entered the Reichsbank in 1923 as a democrat. In three years he was an extreme nationalist. He bamboozled American bankers, secured loans and turned them into war potentials. Ultimately he formed the anti-republican Harzburg Front and went over to Hitler. Those close to him knew that his real aim was to supplant Hitler and become president. When this did not come about, he planned to have Hitler name him as successor.

Such an announcement was expected by him and his associates in the economic ministry on a specific day. But that day never came, and Schacht's course from then on was based on two objectives—to save his neck and to build a record which ultimately would disassociate him from Hitler.

How well he succeeded is shown in the detailed reasons given by the tribunal at Nuernberg for his acquittal. If he had, ten years ago, foreseen all the events since, he could have done better. His right hand moved the Hitler cards, while piece by piece he put into the record bits of dissent from Hitler's game. This record saved his neck.

And speaking of his neck, when Schacht came to this country in 1933, those of us who were to deal with him were told of a quaint way known to German bankers to discover the Schacht reactions.

His face, they said, was undecipherable, but his Adam's apple, prominent between the wings of his stiff collar, often betrayed emotion. His Adam's apple must have behaved well at the White House, for on May 12, 1933 he and Mr. Roosevelt issued a joint statement piously saying that to make economic conditions stable, there must be "military disarmament." And so, while we disarmed, Hitler, aided by Schacht, rearmed.

Now the amazing Schacht, his eloquent Adam's apple freed from the shadow of hemp, will go on his way. At his age, 70, European statesmen are at their prime.

The long list of people Schacht has fooled started with the Weimar democrats, then came the American and British bankers and statesmen, the Bruening republicans and the Nazis. Some believe the list should include the Nuernberg tribunal.

His record suggests a political "Perils of Pauline" sequence. He has passed unscathed through financial, political, diplomatic and military dangers. He fell on his feet in depression, inflation, war and peace. We shall not see the like of him again. Unfortunately, we shall probably see a great deal more of Hjalmar.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, Oct. 7, 1926.

Fire Chief William Remy was giving talks at schools in connection with instruction in fire prevention.

Many Mansfielders went to Loudonville to attend final day of 37th annual street fair.

Boundless Energy Marks Russian Workers.

STOCKHOLM — Travelers who report brief glimpses behind the iron curtain when they come out of Russia generally agree that this is a time of testing for the USSR. There are tremendous problems of readjustment and reconversion.

Many returning soldiers have seen something of how people live outside Russia and this has raised some slight doubt as to propaganda legends.

The desperate housing shortage in Moscow and other Russian cities makes that problem elsewhere look absurdly simple. Not more than a block or two off Red Square are slums that scarcely keep out the weather where people are jammed seven and eight in a room.

But in this time of trial, the Soviets have an important asset that may swing the balance. That is the generation up to 30 years old, which has grown up entirely under Communism. They have lived always under a constantly falling rain of propaganda, and that is the climate they accept as normal. They have been told that paradise lies ahead somewhere and they seem to accept this promise with passionate enthusiasm.

One of the advantages of this generation is its seemingly boundless energy. That is particularly true of the women. Recently, a Swedish trade union delegation returned from a visit to the Soviet Union.

The average Swedish woman is not exactly an effete ornament yet what impressed these men most was the strapping Russian women they saw working at heavy tasks in the Magnitogorsk and other big plants. "They don't stand around, like Swedish women, trying to preserve their fingernails," said a member of the delegation.

One important fact about this generation is that, for the most part, they have grown up outside the family. They have lived their lives, first in nursery schools and later in clubs, as part of the Soviet youth organization. The entire emphasis has been on identification with the state.

This has given them an outlook entirely different from that of the same generation outside Russia. For example, overcrowding in homes and the lack of ordinary conveniences and even of comforts mean far less to them than they would to a young man or woman in the west.

They have been conditioned to go home merely to sleep. Their time for leisure and recreation is spent in clubs and with groups having common interests.

Whether their view of lands beyond the Russian border, with hitherto undreamed-of luxuries and conveniences, will have any lasting effect on returning soldiers is a question.

Another important fact to remember is that this generation can accept iron discipline. Stories of violence, looting and cruelty that have come out of Germany, Austria and Hungary have distorted this fact.

There is reason to believe that a fixed policy from the top was to ignore and perhaps even to encourage reprisals in enemy states for what the Russian peoples had suffered on their own soil.

Because of the present internal strains, the masters of the Kremlin must continually stress hostility between the western democracies and the Soviet Union. They must propagandize the theme of a menace from the west. The disciplined Communist generation can be expected to take this as they take everything emanating from authority. Their training has made them not reasoning beings but willing and happy instruments of the state.

Truman Not Lacking In Courage, Opinion Expressed By FDR, Jr.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., recently was comparing his father with the man who succeeded him in the White House.

His general conclusion was that Harry Truman certainly is not lacking in courage.

"Father never stuck his neck out the way Truman does," said young Franklin. "He never wrote a letter to congress demanding that they pass the FEPC. He was all for the FEPC and the anti-poll tax bill, but he let other people get out in front and carry the ball."

It was hard for friends to say whether young Franklin was paying tribute to Truman's courage or his father's sagacity.

One fact that many people don't realize is that Truman's position regarding racial injustice is strong partly because he has two conscientious southerners at the head of his justice department.

The attorney general, Tom Clark, is from Texas, while the head of the criminal division, Lamar Caudle, is from North Carolina.

Both have been vigorous in attempting to prevent racial injustice. When the race riots broke in Columbia, Tenn., for instance, Caudle, unable to get airplane transportation, drove all night in his car to reach the scene of the trouble.

Again when Isaac Woodward, a Negro veteran, was permanently blinded after an altercation with a South Carolina policeman, Caudle—as chief of the justice department's criminal division — brought a criminal action against the policeman. Such a step by the federal government is almost unprecedented, and the fact that it was taken by a North Carolinian, with the support of an attorney general from Texas, is significant.

Note—Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia and other southerners argue that the race problem can best be handled by southerners themselves.

Army Reneges On Furloughs.

When the army puts on its next enlistment drive it is going to have a hard time with certain GI's who recall the promises made the last time they enlisted. One of those promises was that those who enlisted for a year would get thirty days' extra furlough in addition to their regular thirty-day furlough. It was on that basis that they enlisted for one year and one month.

Now, however, they find that the extra furlough is not going to be forthcoming. It's out the window.

War department circular 251 cancels the re-enlistment furlough promised to GI's, and their is nothing the men who took the army at its word can do about it.

The war department explains that it was forced to cancel this furlough under the Armed Forces Leave Act passed by congress last summer. In other words, the army says, that after it promised the extra thirty days' leave, congress took it away.

This was done when congress voted to put enlisted men on the same proportionate basis as officers regarding terminal leave, at which time it also voted that enlistment furlough leave counts against terminal leave.

How much the army did to guide congress on this legislation is not known. Usually the army can be quite potent on Capitol Hill. At any rate, a good many thousand enlisted men who signed up for a year are now sore as blazes and will think twice before signing up again.

No Money for Finland.

Finland has been known to Americans as the little country which always paid its debts. Now, however, the U. S. is getting the reputation among Finns as a country which breaks its financial promises.

What happened is that one year ago Finland sent a trade delegation here to arrange for a $70,000,000 loan from the Export-Import bank. The loan was promised, and on the basis of this promise, the Finns made purchases amounting to $35,000,000 in the United States, with partial commitments for the remaining $35,000,000.

Part of the deal was that Finland was to secure coal from this country which in turn would help increase her newsprint production. Many American newspapers made arrangements to buy this extra newsprint.

However, something has now caused the state department to reverse itself. The Export-Import bank loan to Finland has been held up.

Actual, though unannounced reason for the reversal is the fact that Finland is now in the Soviet sphere of influence and it's feared that any financial help would indirectly aid Russia.

However, there is considerable difference of opinion regarding this. Some government officials maintain that the Finnish people are overwhelmingly pro-American and that a loan would more than offset what indirect aid might go to Russia.

So far, however, the Finns are still waiting.

Merry-Go-Round.

The New York Times and other papers panned Walter Winchell for allegedly causing the stock market crash when he quoted General DeGaulle as believing there would be war between the United States and Russia. However, the same papers did not give Winchell a line of credit when DeGaulle in his speech last week confirmed Winchell up to the hilt. DeGaulle warned the French people of a clash between an "ambitious grouping of Slavs" and a "young America overflowing with resources." . . . Time Magazine last week went further than any other newspaper or newsmagazine by calling the president of the United States a liar. While a lot of us don't agree with the president, and a lot of us may consider him inept or even clumsy, nevertheless he's our president, and we only degrade the position of our country when we call the head of the nation a liar.

Liquor Coincidence.

Throughout last spring and summer, the liquor ration period in Ohio was four weeks. Then it was cut to three weeks. The period beginning Monday is to be still shorter—two weeks.

The state liquor department explains that it is able to loosen up because an increased supply of whisky has reached the market.

That is reason enough, but it still looks like a funny coincidence that the state's ability to satisfy its thirsty citizens should increase in direct proportion to the nearness of the election.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Cheap Electric Power Enlivens Northwest.

SPOKANE, Wash. — To put it plainly, this traveler is a sucker for dams. We all are, no doubt. It's our admiration for the builder.

No tour of our country is complete without a pilgrimage to our grandest monument in concrete, Grand Coulee dam, which throws itself athwart the Columbia river about 100 miles from here.

Nearly a decade ago this traveler had one of his greatest thrills when he first looked upon it. Then it was only partly complete, but the vision was all there, like the rough sketch in charcoal, one of the noblest conceptions of a nation of builders.

It was not the first, of course. TVA in Tennessee, and Boulder in Arizona-Nevada, and Bonneville in Oregon came before it. It will not be the last.

On the first visit, we came up the old gorge of the Columbia, riding in a procession behind Franklin D. Roosevelt, perhaps foremost among our builder presidents. There from below, the great wall of concrete burst upon the sight. It was beginning to rise against the mighty river.

This time it burst upon sight from the other direction, as the car came around the last hill. There below was the valley of the future, the valley of hope, the great waters of the Columbia, shining under the sun, lying calm against that great wall of concrete, a giant cup formed by the hills which rise on every side.

It is an inspiring sight from the top of the dam—which is three-quarters of a mile across and 500 feet high, as tall as the Washington monument in the national capital. On one side, to the north, you look upon the lake—Roosevelt lake—which disappears around a bend but extends 151 miles to the Canadian border.

The dam created that lake. On this same side toward the eastern end of the bridge, you can see, far below, the tunnels carved under the rock wall through which the waters of the river will be pumped up under the hills and over to form a new lake 26 miles long. Through a system of canals and irrigation ditches it will be spread over a million acres of now barren and unproductive land to the east.

And, over the other side of the dam, you look down upon the waters as they fall, like a hurtling snow drift, into the gorge below, a man-made sheen of beauty.

The heart of the great monster is underneath the dam. There the great turbines turned by the river create the electrical energy to turn wheels of old and new industries hundreds of miles away, and to pump water into the new lake for irrigating farms of the future.

Underneath the dam is a great building as spacious as many of our big office buildings—miles and miles of tunnels on numerous floors leading in and out of shiny, clean control rooms.

Quiet men do their various jobs there. It takes only a few to handle this giant, now that the river has been brought under control after a dozen years. The work is not yet done. There are six turbines at the east end. Three more will be installed there to complete that unit of the power system and, eventually another unit of nine will be installed at the other end.

Already power from Grand Coulee is helping to create new industries for the northwest, among them aluminum. It supplies power for the two large aluminum plants outside this city. But the northwest is coming into its own, and cheap power is the reason.

They have put the Columbia giant to work.

Farmer's Diary: "Farm Flashes."

THIS morning after rain, the maple at the west end of the drive is superb. The first brown sprinkling of leaves is moist beneath it, the upper branches have their tips washed with red gold, where the sunshine warms them. First to flaunt its rose pink streamers in the spring, this tree now is first to feel the nip of frost. By the time the other maples are bright with color, it will be bare.

* * *

BEHOLD the sudden spasm of astonished surprise of a small boy changing clothes after school, when he grabs his little brown pants off the line, steps quickly in—and finds a bumble bee has preceded him.

Or look at the palefaced kitten that was chasing her tail and happened to knock against the clothes rack, just emptied of ironed clothes. Great clatter, a frantic meow, and puss slithers out of sight beneath the sofa, while small boys yip with glee.

* * *

DOES anyone lack color? Notice the drifts of frothy asters along every country road — the vivid wild sunflowers and black eyed susans, the purple ironweed, and the glorious goldenrod. Behold the pink lower leaves of sassafras, clinging—the scarlet berries of dogwood, the brilliant red of the gum trees.

* * *

STANDING on the little mountain beyond our village, at sunset, a man can see a vast panorama of green rolling hills, white farmhouses, scurrying automobiles, and the village spires above the greenery of tree shaded streets. The air is so clear that it seems easy for birds to fly. And men, too. For a "flying farmer" is seen circling his plane for a landing in a distant pasture.

* * *

THAT stain on boyish lips is grapes from vines in the high old tree—"up at the old house." Long abandoned, the ruins still furnish interest. The grapes were preceded by sweet apples, by blackberries and by cherries, in season. The walnut trees have hard black balls clinging to the tips of the branches . . . the shagbarks are shedding nuts. Boys and squirrels vie with each other to bring in a winter hoard.

ODD FACT

Each adult human being inhales one gallon of air per minute, and consumes 30 ounces of oxygen daily.

Grace Episcopal Scene Of Young-Mumford Vows

REV. SAMUEL U. J. PEARD read the marriage service Sunday afternoon uniting Miss Mary Margaret Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Young, 204 Lexington avenue, and Richard W. Mumford, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mumford, 151 West Dickson avenue.

Miss Roberta Shaw of Delaware played the nuptial music for the ceremony in the Grace Episcopal church. Miss Shirley Bauer was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated with vases and baskets of yellow gladioli and white chrysanthemums and palms, the bride wore a gown of white brocaded taffeta. Her fingertip veils was attached to a ruffled headband. As her flowers she carried a bouquet of white roses surrounding a corsage of yellow roses.

Miss Janet Amendt of Rochester, N. Y., college roommate of the bride, maid-of-honor, wore a gown of chartruse Korean silk. As flower girl, Nancy Mumford, niece of the bridegroom wore a yellow organdy dress. Her bouquet was like that of the maid-of-honor Both wore headbands of the same flowers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Young chose a light green suit with brown accessories. Mrs. Mumford was dressed in a royal blue velvet dress trimmed in white with black accessories Both had corsages of talisman roses.

Wayne Murphy acted as best man with Stanley Harrison and David Brunk as ushers.

When leaving for a wedding trip to Pennsylvania, Mrs. Mumford wore an aqua dress with a black and white shepherd check coat, black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Miss Marion Davis, Richard Galliway Wed In Quiet Ceremony Saturday

In a quiet ceremony in the parsonage of the First Christian church, Rev. B. F Hagelbarger read the nuptial service which united Miss Marion Lucille Davis and Richard Lee Galliway, Oct. 5 at 3:30 p. m.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Davis, North Mulberry street, wore an aqua wool jersey dress trimmed with silver nailheads, and a corsage of white roses. Her accessories were black.

James Bemiller served as best man.

Members of the immediate families attended the reception held at the home of the bride following the ceremony. The bridal table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

The former Miss Davis is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and is a member of Unit 1 of Nu Phi Mu sorority. She has been employed as a stenographer at the Ohio Brass company.

Mr. Galliway, the son of Mrs. Inez Galliway, West Fourth street, graduated from Zanesville high school and served 2½ years in the U. S. navy. He is now employed at the Standard Oil company.

The couple will live at 304 West Fourth street after a short wedding trip.

Nu Phi Mu Sorority Has Last In Series of Rushing Parties

The final event in the series of parties for 35 rushees of Nu Phi Mu sorority was held Sunday in Liberty park pavilion in the form of a tea.

The Misses Marilee Weber and Ruth Ann Bush presided at the tea table which was centered with an arrangement of floating candles and pink roses. Mrs. Robert D. Crowe gave a history of the sorority and interviewed the rushees.

The social committee who assisted from Units 1, 2, and 3 were: the Misses Mary Lu Fankhauser, Ilean Hammer, Beverly Shipley, Hazel Parker, Charleen Hamilton, Louise Black, Catherine Callahan and Joan DeWitt

The advisors, the Misses Katherine Niman, Margaret Bush and Mary Brooker were guests.

The new pledges will be installed Oct. 12 at the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 7:30 p. m. A Founders day dance will follow the ceremony. Bill Leicy's orchestra will play from 9:30 p. m. to 12:30 a. m.

GALILEAN BIBLE CLUB.

Miss Jessie Hale was welcomed as a new member when the Galilean Bible club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Moser, Bartley avenue. Mrs. Frank Poling was a visitor. The devotions were read by Mrs. Moser and Miss Rose Cherry presented the lesson. The next meeting will be Oct. 18 with Mrs. J. B. Rinehart.

Bardon-Edgington.

BUCYRUS — Nevada Lutheran church was the scene of the marriage Thursday afternoon of Miss Naomi Marie Bardon, daughter of Mrs. Liddie Bardon and Charles Edgington, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edgington of Bucyrus. Attendants were Miss Lucile Edgington, sister of the bridegroom, and Donald Bardon, brother of the bride. The couple will live on a farm west of Bucyrus.

The Current Events Study group of the American Association of University Women will resume meetings in the Library Wednesday at 7 p. m. and will continue to meet every other Wednesday until Christmas. All members of A. A. U. W. are invited to attend. H. W. Arlin will lead the discussion on the subject of Mansfield's new schools

Jeanette Bryant Former WAC, Weds V. W. Miller

Miss Jeanette Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bryant, Ashland road, repeated nuptial vows with Vernon W. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller, R. D 4.

The double ring ceremony, with Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger officiating, was performed in the home of the bride Sept. 28.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Lester Brethan, her brother-in-law, wore a rose wool dress with brown accessories. She carried a white Bible covered with gardenias.

Mr Miller was attended by Desmond Walker as best man.

The former Miss Bryant was recently discharged from the WACS after serving 2½ years. She is now employed in the office of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. Previous to her enlistment in the WACS she attended Cleveland college.

The bridegroom is employed at the Brownell Shoe company and was recently discharged from the U. S. Navy where he served 33 months in the Pacific area.

The couple will reside at 342 West Sixth street.

MRS. MILLER

Freer-Armstrong

ASHLAND — Announcement is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Freer, 131 Ferrell avenue, of the marriage of their daughter, Gloria, to John J. Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Armstrong, Detroit, Mich., Sept. 28. Rev. George J Gougeon officiated.

The bride chose for her wedding a street-length outfit of sable wool with brown accessories. She wore white orchids and carried a white prayer book. Her attendant was Miss Rosemary Armstrong, sister of the groom, while Tom Armstrong, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Furnaces Cleaned $5.95 up

Saves much fuel

"The Williamson Heater Company:

We can surely say our Williamson Furnace has been a success. House is so cozy all over, saves many steps as it holds fire over so long a period, burns the coal completely. We go to basement in mornings and evenings. The automatic heat control saves much fuel and gives such even temperature. Our furnace has been so satisfactory, I can not express in words the comforts, economy and appearance it has added to our home."

Before Putting Your Summer Wearables Away

Make Sure They're MIRACLEANED

Every trace of soil and perspiration is thoroughly removed. Skillful "spotters" check carefully each garment. Colors are brightened, texture "softness" restored, and MIRACLEAN'S finishing methods put back that fresh, clean "new" appearance. Have your summer things MIRACLEANED now, you'll thank us and your own good judgment next year. Just phone 4666-6.
